

WE RESPECT AND PRESERVE OUR ENVIRONMENT.

We conserve resources.

Economic success and ecological responsibility go hand in hand for the RONAL GROUP. We are committed to protecting the environment and meeting the challenges of the future.

Along the entire value chain, we analyze the ecological effects of

- our processes,
- our products,
- our actions,

so that we are aware of and can positively influence our environmental impact on water, soil, air and raw materials.

As part of our opportunity and risk management, we assess the nature, scope and effects of our actions. We use the resulting measures and opportunities to reduce or prevent our activities having an undesirable effect on the environment.

The key tools for continuously improving our processes include:

- motivating employees,
- measures,
- figures,
- measurements and monitoring.

We value our stakeholders.

Our goal is to ensure that the way in which we manufacture our products takes account of all our customers' requirements in terms of environmental compatibility, economy, quality and safety, as well as compliance with legal and statutory requirements.

We continually improve our environmental performance.

We implement our environmental policy effectively by setting clear goals. In order to achieve this, we work to constantly improve and develop our management system. We set and track key environmental parameters with targets in order to continuously optimize our performance within the framework of the PLANBLUE sustainability strategy.

We provide incentives to boost environmental protection.

Transparent and credible information and open dialog with our employees, customers, suppliers, legislators, authorities and other interested parties are a matter of course for the RONAL GROUP.

We provide the resources and information necessary to improve our environmental performance.

*Oliver Brauner
CEO RONAL GROUP
April 2020*

